LETTER FROM YOUR DEAN

Greetings friends,

We are encouraged to see the number of new COVID cases in our area continue to fall as Omicron continues to run its course. So, we're excited to proceed with our dedication program for the newly refurbished harpsichord so expertly tended to by Norm Purdy. Norm and Richard Guy have prepared a program for us to enjoy on Sunday, February 20 at 3 pm at the Christian Science Church, 1390 Pearl Street in Eugene. Norm and Richard plan to have a number of keyboard instruments on display, for what will surely be an interesting program. Help us spread the word!

We're also excited to be returning to Resurrection Episcopal Church for our Lenten Recital Series, which begins early next month and continues through April. We also have confirmation that Kraig Scott from Walla Walla University will be a guest artist for this year's Musicking conference in April. He will be in Eugene the weekend of April 23 and 24, first to present an organ and basso continuo masterclass, and to perform an organ recital of music from Naples at Central Lutheran. Exact times for both events are still in flux, so watch the newsletter for updates.

Hope to see you on the afternoon of the 20th. All the best, Brad

Harpsichords Program Rescheduled to February 20 at 3 pm

The February chapter program has been rescheduled to February 20 at 3 pm. It will take place in the auditorium of the Christian Science Church in Eugene and will focus on harpsichords, as seen from a builder's perspective.

Norm Purdy will bring together 4 harpsichords for the program: a Zuckerman virginal, a Purdy spinet, an Italian Baroque single manual by Purdy, and the two manual AGO Purdy-Zuckerman Flemish. The last instrument being the ugly duckling Norman transformed from a single manual to a two-manual beautiful swan.

The program will include an explanation of the similarities and differences between these instruments, and demonstrations of their tonal characteristics. In addition, photos of the single to dual manual conversion will be shown.

Harpsichordists Suzanne Giordano, Mike Reiter, Barry Anderson, Barbara Baird and Richard Guy will present musical selections on the instruments. There's still time to sign up to play, if you wish, contact Richard Guy.

The program is open to the public, so bring along your friends. Attendees are invited to try out the various instruments after the formal program.

The program is Sunday afternoon, Feb 20, 3 pm at the Christian Science Church, 14th and Pearl streets in downtown Eugene.

MUSICIAN (!) NEEDED

Trinity Lutheran church in Cottage Grove is need of a twice a month musician which may lead to serving every Sunday. Our long time organist is getting tired and could use an occasional break. In addition, she may be retiring from that position in due time. While I think it is a long shot, I'm reaching out to you for any names that you might be able to recommend to us. We would welcome an organist, pianist or keyboardist. Thanks for you consideration and any help that you might offer.

Pastor Jim Markus, Trinity Lutheran Church, Cottage Grove, OR. (541) 942-2373.
